Here are some ways to stay engaged with what we’re doing—from ways to get involved, to making connections with new people!
Build and Practice New Skills!

We're committed to learning and growing together. We do this through a variety of trainings and through developing caring and supportive relationships. Learn about upcoming trainings and workshops at cacwny.org or by calling (716) 852-3813.
Strengthen and Expand Your Community!

Create relationships and friendships with new people. Together, we can more effectively organize for justice, health and equity in our communities.
Subscribe to Our Newsletter & Mailing List!

We issue a quarterly newsletter to keep you up to date on the progress of our campaigns, opportunities, and upcoming gatherings. Get into the nitty gritty of the issues we are tackling, the in's and out's of our campaigns, and gain insight to the vision that informs our work.

Go to cacwy.org or call (716) 852-3813 today.
Follow Us On Social Media!

Stay up to date on the impact of our campaigns and urgent actions by liking us on Facebook and following us on Twitter @CleanAirWNY.
Also be sure to visit our website to read our blog posts and learn more about our staff, board, and campaigns.
Join Us In Action!

Our work is urgent. You may receive an email, letter or perhaps a phone call from Sue Kelley, or one of our other rockstar members, asking you to join us in action.

We hope you'll show up and turn out, because we need you!
Your Vision Empowers Our Work!

Membership is an integral part of our organization. We base our organizing work on the needs and values of our members. We uplift and center resident knowledge, knowing that the people rooted in our communities are the most knowledgeable about what they need.
We Strategize to WIN!

Building a collective vision of justice with members allows us to strategically challenge the power structures that are harming our communities. Join us in reimagining and building a world where we all can live healthy and long lives.
Join us in Celebration!

Clean Air hosts events and get togethers to celebrate our people, uplift the work we have done, and envision all that we will accomplish in the years to come!
